Five Weeks to Maintaining Creativity: REinvention

Maintaining Creativity 2:
REinvention

As this newsletter reaches your inbox, our second Maintaining Creativity conference is five weeks away.

It promises to be an exciting and informative day for artists 55+. The theme is REinvention, because it's something we all have to keep doing in order to stay creative.

REinventing oneself as an artist will form the basis for the morning's discussions, beginning with a keynote address by CBC host Laurie Brown, followed by a plenary session with Laurie and four other prominent artists.

As panelist Tom Campbell says, "Reinvention is continuing to surprise yourself, and nothing is as fun as a good surprise."

After the plenary session, and a delicious lunch, participants will have a chance to gear up for the afternoon with a 15-minute Gyrokinesis session with practitioner Vicki Hawkins. Then participants will split into three groups to take one of the afternoon seminars: Financial Planning, Marketing, or Healthy Aging.

The day will wind up with a networking session; a chance to REconnect with other REinvented colleagues.

The full cost of the conference is $63. However, thanks to our sponsors -- Merck Canada and Bayshore Healthcare -- as member of the CSARN Community, you can register for just $22. That includes breakfast and lunch. Space is limited, so register today. Use the Discount Code CSARN22 when you register to claim the $22 rate.

In addition, someone at the conference will win an Annual Health Assessment from Medcan valued at $2,895.
